Mentors, if your firm is hiring and you would like to extend the opportunity to the MILE program, let us know and we can help spread the word!

Fastenal Company – Multiple Career Opportunities

Please note the following for how to get information on the Fastenal Company. There are some great career opportunities available within their organization.

You may already have ongoing communication with a Fastenal District Manager, Distribution Center Manager, or Regional Recruiter but this newsletter is our way of keeping in touch between those times. We will continue to send a newsletter three times during the school year to those contacts that we work more closely with, to help provide updates on our Company for the students you assist that may be interested in careers with Fastenal.

If possible, we'd appreciate the attached newsletter be printed and posted or uploaded to an electronic bulletin board that students have access to. Additionally, www.fastenal.com is a great resource tool to review, to learn more about our Company's continued growth and success.

Protégé's (P,2nd)

If you have little experience with job interviews, now is the time to learn. The more practice and experience you have at interviewing, the better and sharper your skills will be when you need them the most. Please take a moment to read the Employer Led Mock Interviews document that is attached. Mock interviews will be March 20-22 and spots are limited, so sign up now!

Hi MILE Protégés,

Please note below this notice for the LEAD Program's Lunch and Learn luncheon on Thursday, Feb 9th. The guest speaker, Jodi Womack, is the wife of our February MILE Program speaker, Jason Woman . I am sure she will be both informative and entertaining. Try to go if you can and remember that there is always free food at the Lunch and Learn Programs. Just make sure you get there on time or even early. This one is especially great for our female MILE Protégés.

Take care.

Dr. Bob

Join the Office of Student Leadership & Involvement for Lunch With A Leader on Thursday, February

9th, in the Memphis Room of the University Center (UC 340A). The program provides opportunities for U of M students to learn more about Memphis Leadership efforts (there's a lot more than you know out there). Meanwhile, you can also expand or start your network of connections, which is crucial to your job search! So get a free lunch, get educated, and get connected.

Our guest speaker is Jodi Womack, the founder of No More Nylons. In January of 2007, after working at the David Allen Company for seven years, Mrs. Womack and her husband decided to start their own consulting firm, The Womack Company. Their company works with businesses both big and small to create a custom workplace system that maximizes productivity. In 2009 Jodi brought together thirteen women on a Tuesday night and her organization No More Nylons was born. No More Nylons symbolizes getting out of the work women have to do and into the work they love to do without the restrictions and pressures of the traditional workplace model. Click here for more information on Mrs. Womack and her organization.

This is the first LWL for Spring 2012! There is no RSVP needed. Box lunches are first come, first served. Please plan to arrive at 12:45 pm so that you can ensure seating. If you have any questions, please contact me at bsnsbry@memphis.edu or (901) 678-4087.

MILE Protégés,

In case you were not aware of the Professional Development Certificate, please read below. All of you are early enough in your academic careers, that you have time to participate in these worthwhile endeavors. With the MILE Program Certificate and the Certificate of Professional Development – along with that great UM Diploma - you should be ready to conquer the business and professional world. More important than the diplomas and certificates, you will have learned so much more than the typical student (even typical business student) that you will stand out amongst your peers in both your job pursuit and your ultimate job performance. Please seriously consider this as a wonderful complement to your MILE Certification and go see Mr. Hall at your earliest convenience.

Take care. See you all a week from Friday.

Dr. Bob

To All FBCE Faculty:

Please make a note to promote the most recent addition of a certificate recognizing student achievement CERTIFICATE of PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT.

This certificate is to be a valuable asset to graduates who are entering the business community. Potential employers will be made aware of the significance of having it with their resume and diploma. It signifies successful completion of six of the seven Fogelman Promise Initiatives. Two of the seven initiatives are delivered via the classroom, 4Cs and Know Good-Do Good-Thrive, so please call students attention to these presentations when given to your students and encourage them to seek completion of another four to receive the certificate. Please let me know if you would like me to speak with your students, 5-10 minutes, on the benefits of participating in these initiatives. You and your students may contact me either by email or by phone, or can meet with me in Room 274. Thanks for your assistance.
